

The Construction

1. Draw a ray at an acute angle to your line segment.
2. Using your compass, mark off three equal lengths on this ray.
3. Join the third point on the ray to the end of your line segment.
4. Use sliding set squares to draw lines parallel to this, passing through the other two points on your ray.
5. Check the divisions of your line segment using a compass.

