

The Construction

1. Draw a ray at an acute angle to your line segment.
2. Using your compass, mark off two equal lengths on this ray.
3. Join the second point on the ray to the end of your line segment.
4. Use sliding set squares to draw a line parallel to this, passing through the first point on your ray.
5. Check the divisions of your line segment using a compass.

